

Directions for Recultivation

Make a file scratch on the sealed tube, sterilize the outer surface with alcohol or some other disinfectant, and break open inside a wrapping of sterile cotton. Remove the dry pellet and dissolve in approx. 1 ml. of sterile water or nutrient broth. Streak immediately on suitable agar plates in the usual manner. Single colonies can be isolated within a few days.